

Diane Michaels, Author

Short Bio

DIANE MICHAELS is a professional harpist living in New Jersey. Her career has taken her from Carnegie Hall to the wedding hall (she has played at least 1000 weddings). When not performing or writing, she and her husband make up songs about and for their miniature poodle, Lola.

As a writer, Ms. Michaels has penned program biographies and press materials for classical musicians, and her articles on developing and sustaining a career as a musician have appeared in publications including Harp Column and Allegro.

Ms. Michaels plays the harp for tea at the St. Regis Hotel in New York City. She has played on Broadway for the show Thoroughly Modern Millie and with Tony Bennett at Caesar's Palace in Atlantic City. She is on the roster of Music for all Seasons, a non-profit organization. She serves as the Mid Atlantic Regional Director of the American Harp Society. In addition to maintaining a private teaching studio, Ms. Michaels is on the faculty of the Wharton Music Center.
